After ten minutes of hot firing the band made a dash for the road and escaped, leaving one man, Louis Cruz, a former resident of Nuevitas, and always a worthless character. The rural guards had two men wounded. They captured fifteen horses which the outlaws had been leading. The band recently stole eight rifles, a number of revolvers and machetes and a quantity of cartridges, with which it was evidently intended to arm additional

Spaniards Looking for Investments CITY OF MEXICO, July 9.-Spaniards formerly in business in Havana and other Cuban cities are now arriving here, looking for investments and say that by October fully $130,000,000 of Spanish capital will have been withdrawn from the island, for Spaniards of wealth do not wish to risk a long period of political unrest and possible coming into power of professional Cuban politicians. This wealth which is being taken away by Spaniards is good cash and will mainly be taken to Spain for investment, while some will come to Mexico. It carried off four members of the regimental band in three days, and in two weeks we have lost twenty-seven men out of our regiment. Four of these were of Company M, the one to which I belong. One night, at 9 o'clock, the physiclans made us get outside the barracks with nothing on but the Cuban atmosphere, our guns, belts and one hundred rounds of ammunition. our company was divided up into small squads in charge of a noncommissioned officer and scattered all about the country."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 9 .- To-day was strictly observed as a day of rest and recreation by members of the National Educational Association and the thousands of the visitors who have been flocking to the city during the past week. The morning and afternoon trains brought in hundreds of delegates and their friends, but as the registration bureau was closed no accurate estimate of the number of arrivals could be obtained. Among the prominent arrivals was Allen Davis, of Washington, D. C., president of the business department of the association. From early morning and during the entire day and evening the railroads to the numerous seaside and of their capacity and the city streets which during the past week have been thronged with new faces were practically deserted. The various houses of worship, however, were not overlooked, many churches being crowded to the standing room limit. Mr. Harris will read a report of the special committee of the department of superintendents on school hygiene. HENRIETTA CRAPP MISSING. Former Lafayette Girl Supposed to Have Been Kidnaped in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 9.-Miss Henrietta Crapp, daughter of a prominent insurance man of this city, mysteriously disappeared from the home of H. C. Underwood, near the Soldiers' Home, four miles from Atlanta, Saturday afternoon. A party of thirty men, assisted by Atlanta detectives, have failed to find the slightest trace of the missing girl, and it is believed she has been kidnaped. Miss Crapp is sixteen years old, a brunette and about five feet, seven inches in height. She was visiting the Underwood family and the last seen of her was on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when she left Miss Underwood's rocm, saying she would call the cook to prepare supper. A member of the searching party reported that a carriage had been seen near the Underwood home on Saturday afternoon, but the disappearance could not have been an elopement, as Miss Crapp was attired only in a house dress and slip-Military Called Out at London, Ont., to Suppress Strike Riots.

LONDON, Ont., July 9.—The city has been placed under martial law and additional militiamen ordered in from the adjacent towns as a result of yesterday's streetcar riots. Late last night the police became unable to cope with the rioters and the military was called out to clear the streets. The trouble commenced in the afternoon when crowds drove the nonunion crews of several streetcars from their posts and stoned the cars. One car was fired after the crews had left it and was almost destroyed. The police dispersed the afternoon rioters without aid. The company left six cars on Dundas street in the afternoon and did not attempt to move them to the barns until night. When the attempt was made the rioting broke out afresh. The cars were stoned and the mob became so boisterous that the riot act had to be read. This had not the desired effect, and Mayor Wilson called out the military. Several arrests were made. No one was seriously injured by the stone throwing. The city is quiet to-day and no further trouble is looked for.

of Taylor for Governor-Two Democratic Tickets Possible.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 8.-The Repubican state convention, which meets here next Wednesday, may be a record-breaker for quick work. The Democratic state conevention at Louisville, two weeks ago, broke the record otherwise, being in session an entire week. There were there three candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor-Goebel, Stone and Hardin, went into the convention each having about one-third the delegates. There are also three candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor-Taylor, Stone and Pratt. Attorney General Taylor claims that about two-thirds of the delegates are instructed for him. His friends claim that the delegates for Colonel Stone and Judge Pratt cannot affect the vote for Taylor by any combination between themselves or even with candidates for the places. Colonel Stone and Judge Pratt are expected here to-morrow and their friends promise some surprises, but the present indications are that the Taylor men will organize the convention and be "the Taylor slate." Taylor is called the na-Bradley and other state administration men are considered as favoring some other man. Uncertain Both as to Quality and Quantity-Copper "Cash" and the CAMPBELL, WILD & CO.

pecial to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, July 9 .- The recent reports which indicate that the Chinese copper coins known as "cash" are disappearing because of their appreciating value thus created in the currency of China lends special interest to a statement recently preregarding the currency of China. The money of China, it says, is uncertain as to quantity and quality. No accurate estimate has been made of the amount of money in circulation in the empire, while no accurate statement can be made to-day of what its value will be to-morrow. Based upon silver, its value fluctuates with the changes in the market price of silver. The copper "cash," valued at about one-tenth of a cent, is the actual circulating medium, while verse; the two "Vagabondia" books, by Bliss Carman and Richard Hovey; Stephen the tael is the nominal sum standard for larger sums, it being merely a given weight of silver, and not a coin. Actual silver circulates in two forms, the "dollar" and the New York; Miss Louise Imogen Guiney's "Patrins" and Miss Evaleen Stein's "One "sycee." The dollar was originally the Mexican dollar, and became a popular and generally accepted form of currency wherever obtained. So convenient was it that large quantities were imported for use as currency. More recently, however, mints for the coinage of dollars purporting to be of weight and fineness equal to Mexican dollars have been established, not by the central government, but by the authorities of the various provinces, and the result is that the rivalry between these provincial mints

North China Daily News, at least ten different kinds of silver coins purporting to be "dollars" will be upon the market. In addition to this uncertainty may be pointed out the fact that the "tael" differs in various cities and provinces, the weight of silver twenty years and that two years hence will recognized as a tael being greater at some nts than at others. The consequence is that while the haikwan, or suctoms, tael was worth, on Jan. 1, 1899, 72.2 cents (gold), the Amoy tael was worth but 71 cents, the Canton tael 70.8 cents, the Chinklang tael 69.3 cents, the Ningpo tael 68.2, the Chefoo tael 67.9 cents, the Hankow tael 66.4 cents, the Foochow tacl 65.6 cents, and the Shanghai tael 64.8 cents. Even the "sycee," which is an actual quantity of silver cast in the form a shoe with the weight written upon it in Chinese characters, is somewhat uncertain as to its value, both by reason of the conthe fineness of the silver utilized Fears Misdirected Charity. AUSTIN, Tex., July 9 .- Governor Sayers to-day issued a flood sufferers' proclamation especially requesting that neither supplies of any kind nor money be sent to any place in the overflowed district without first advising him. He is endeavoring to systematize the distribution of all contributions so that each place may be supplied according to its necessities, no place getting more than it needs and every place getting what its necessities require. This is very important and he trusts that his request will be observed in every case. His reasons for issuseting here this week.
